FROM:

Harry E. Fitzwater
Deputy Director for Administration

SUBJECT:

OSHA Standards

REFERENCE:

Memo to Harry Fitzwater, DDA, Dated
4 May 1983, Subject: Same

1. In accordance with your request of 4 May 1983, the following are the Codes and Standards followed by the Agency in addition to the OSHA Standards.

a. National Fire Codes, Volumes 1-16, published by the National Fire Protection Association.

b. Standards of the American National Standards Institute.

c. Basic Building Code published by the Building Officials and Code Administrators International, Inc.

d. Regulations for the Administration and Enforcement of the Radiation Control for Health and Safety Act of 1968 by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) of the Department of Health and Human Services.

2. These Codes and Standards are not used as alternate Standards, but rather as supplements to the OSHA Standards. We would also use these Standards if particular areas of concern were not covered by the OSHA Standards.

Room 7-D45
Washington, D.C. 20205

Dear Mr. Hutchings:

Title 29 of the Code of Regulations, 1960.16-.17, requires that the head of each federal agency or department comply with the standards of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Provision is made for the application of a more stringent standard upon notification to the Secretary of the Department of Labor. Also, an alternate standard may be used by the department or agency after consulting with its employees or their representatives and upon the approval of the Secretary of DOL.

The Subcommittee would like you to furnish it with a list of all standard(s) used by your organization that differ from the comparable OSHA standard(s) together with any supporting material.

This data should be in the office of the Subcommittee no later than the close of business on Wednesday, May 11, 1983.

Mr. Bert Hutchings
